Great excitement was caused at Portamouth, N. H., Wednesday night, by Fred H. J. Hein, aged 45, a hard working cooper, shooting dead two of his daughters, and the hilling himself. Their dead bodies were found piled up in the house. He about another daughter but she escaped, only to die soon afterwards at another house. His wife had left him several months since, and it is said that trouble on her account lay at the bottom of the fearful tragedy.

The veteran playwright and actor, Dion Boucicoult, died in New York on Thursday. He was born in Dublin, Dec. 20, 1882. His education was in his native city and at London University. His long connection with the dramatic profession began in 1841, when he wrote "London Assurance." A mong the celebrated plays, products of his pen, were "Colleen Bawn," "The Shaughraun,"

"Les Crochets du Pere Martin," "Arrahna-Pogue," "Led Astray," "Don Cresar de Bazan," "The Streets of New York," "The Corsican Brothers," "The Octoron" and "Dot." "The Shaughraun" was his master piece, though the plot was not original with him. He loaves three daughters.

The residents of Menton, Ind., are greatly excited over a mysterious disease which baffles the physicians and has annihilated the family of George Davidson. Tuesday of last week, the seven-year-old daughter was taken ill, and in eight hours she died. An hour later a nine-year-old son was attacked and died in five hours. Next day his system re stacked one after another, and died. All the physicians in the neighborhood admit they never saw anything like it, and do not know what it was or how to treat it. So great is the sorrow and agitation of Mr. and Mrs. Davidson that it is feard they will not escape the fate of their children.

Gustave G. Rev. Geo. F. Cain, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, at Albion, N. Y., and one of the most popular preschers in that county, met death at a singular time Sunday morning. He appeared in his pulpit apparently enjoying his usual good health, and went through the services preliminary to the sermon with his accustomed fervor. He took as the subject for his morning's discourse the story of Naaman the Syrian, who was healed of leprosy by faith in the directions given him by Elisha to bathe in the waters of the Jordan. The minister was discoursing on the power of the Almighty to save those who trusted him, not only from the troubles of life but from all punishment after death, when he brought his uplifted hand suddenly down to his heart, and without uttering a word fell on the platform and died before any of the congregation could reach him.

A terrible railroad accident occurred on Friday evening, on the Reading (Pa.) Railroad. The train that met with the disaster was running from 38 to 40 miles an hour, and had on board possibly 125 to 150 pasengers. It consisted of an engine, tender, mail and express cars, and three passenger cars. Above Shoemakerville there is a curve where the railroad is about 18 to 20 feet higher than the Schuylkill River. Here, shortly before 6 o'clock, a freight train rain into a coal train, throwing several cars in the latter train on the opposite track. Before the train hands had time to go back to warn the approaching train of the danger, the Pottaville express came around the curve and ran into the wrecked coal cars. months, and 40 per cent. per annum by using it four times in the year.
You probably have money ahead. Is it paying you as well as this?
Lots and lots of people, may be you are one of the number, either because they have not looked into the matter, or on account of a natural dislike to see so much money "caten up," as they look at it, all at once, A general awakening, however, is going on among thoughtful con-umers, and they are coming to a realizing sense of the costliness of this ustom, and are adopting the new plan.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"For several years, in the spring months, I used to be troubled with a drowsy, tired feeling, and a dull pain in the small of my back, so bad, at times, as to prevent my being able to walk, the least sudden motion causing me severe distress. Frequently, boils and rashes would break out on various paris of the body. By the advice of friends and my family physician, I began the use of Ayer's Barsaparilla and continued it till the poison in my blood was thoroughly eradicated."—L W. English, Montgomery City, Mo.—"My system was all run down; my skin rough and of yellowish hus. I tried various remedies, and while some of them gave memorary relief, mose of them did any permanent good. At last I began to take Ayer's Saraparilla, confining it exclusively for a considerable time, and am pleased to say that it completely

"For years I suffered from scrotula and blood diseases. The doctors' prescriptions and several so-called blood-purifiers being of no avail, I was at last advised by a friend to try Ayer's Barsaparilla. I did so, and now feel like a new man, being fully restored to health."—C. N. Frink, Decofah, Iowa.

A native of this State now on a business trip to Dakota, writes that he has seen enough of Dakota farming. The officers of the Sagadahoc Agricultural Society are putting forth every effort to make their coming fair the model one of the year. The stock is to be judged the second day of the fair in rings, with the work made an object lesson of instruction to all interested. A scale of points is to be used, and the score given, explained as the work goes on. Men qualified for the work will be secured for judges. It is also the purpose to have the fair clean from all objectionable features. G. M. Gowell is President, and I. E. Mallett, Secretary.

Mallett, Secretary.

We see it stated that the general manager of the Maine Central Railroad has suggested to the officers of the State Society that the annual fair be held in August, in order to catch the patronage of the summer visitors. This earlier date would hardly meet the wants of the agriculture of the State, and as an exhibition is the prime factor in the problem, it is necessary that the necessities in this direction be catered to first of all. The date of late fixed upon is quite early enough for the interests of agriculture. Give us fair weather and the attendance will be all that can be desired, whether the summer visitors are with us or not, and fair weather is quite as probable in September as in August.

It is a custom in England which cannot be without its good effect for the participants in any important public measure to join publicly in an invocation to the Supreme Ruler, always with a decorum and reverence in the highest degree appropriate and important in 10 "The Mark Lane Franca" is abook good. in the highest degree appropriate and impressive. In "The Mark Lane Express" report of the agricultural show at Plymouth we read: "There was, as usual, divine service in the showyard on Sunday morning. The ceremony took place under a large marquee, nearly filled by the congregation, which included many of the nobility and the Mayor and Mayoress. The sermon was preached by the Bishop of Exeter, from Jeremiah xvii, 7, 8—"Biessed is the man that trusteth in the Lord, whose hope is in the Lord, for he shall be as a tree planted by the waters." He addressed his hearers as "My fellow-workmen;" said he knew no higher dignity than that of a laborer; no higher dignity than that of a laborer; and as one himself during six times seven years, he spoke to them in the Master's ia the third

The State College and the Congressional Grant.

Immediately following its passage, the Furmer published the full text of the bill granting further aid to the State Landgrant Colleges, and a purpose to call public attention to the magnitude of this endowment, and its great importance to our Btate College, has been crowded out up to the present time by the pressure of State Fair and other cattle show matter upon our last week's is the third plums on to load with a principle of the principle of the properties of t Fair and other cattle show matter upon our last week's i columns. The bill passed by Congress gives our college at Orono the sum of $15,000 for the year ending June 30, 1890, and annually thereafter this endowment is increased by $1000, until it shall have Maynard of the columns of the c reached $35,000, where it remains a fixed college, gaven and owners. Thus there are $15,000 now due the institution, and in a few months there will be $16,000 more, making $31,000 Just as so coming to the present year. coming to the college the present year, and disease—the finally the full $25,000 a year. When we remember the early poverty of the institu-tion, and the struggles it has had to go Much care m through in order to maintain an existence, and carry on the highly efficient work does it will of which has been accomplished, these three applications.

brighter prospects seem almost too good to vals. The d believed.

The available funds for educational work on. have heretofore been only about $10,000 Removing yearly. Three years ago the national government provided $15,000 a year for the extension out perimental department, a sum much larger sessful. than the expenditures in the entire educa-cational work of the institution, Now comes this magnificent endowment for the educational department, which added to lengthering that already available from the permanent opportunity fund, will swell its immediate resources to work of the r $25,000 a year, and soon to reach $33,000, Now is a fitting or four times as much as the income from work be? It its present permanent fund. Surely this is it profitable sufficient cause for great rejoicing on the part of the friends of the institution, and should be from part of the friends of the institution, and the friends of education everywhere. This cooliege, heretofore running the gauntlet of opposition, receiving the kicks, cufis and threats of legislators, thus jumps to the fullest independence, and richly provided with the means to do a great educational work. Will it do this work? The act granting this money provides that it shall be applied only to instruction in agriculture, and other industrial education, including the English language, and facilities for such instruction.

Now, the farmers of the State have a grave responsibility in this work, and it is grave responsibility in this work, and it is the improved already upon them. It is for them to see to elevation of the control is that agriculture gets the full benefit of this this end, ther magnificent grant to which it is entitled, and for which it was designed. We have a colcan be no dro lege of agriculture to which the farmers of the State have been giving freely and liberally of their money for the benefit of the industry in which they are engaged. But there is no hiding the fact, however much it has been tried, that agriculture has realized conversational, little, broatly from it is no applied in the combet in the combet is not applied to the combet in the combet in the combet is not applied to the combet in the combet in the combet is not applied to the combet in the combet of the combet in the ised comparatively little benefit from it thus far. The institution has not been equal to the work of either comprehending or reaching the wants of the industry, for which first of all it was given an existence. The Freshman classes of twenty, thirty and forty have turned over one, two, and possibly three to the Course in Agriculture. The last number of the Codes states that the class of '03 has assigned seventeen to the Engineering Department, and see to Goriculture. Only three of the eight trustees of the institution have any relation to bers do not it dericulture. Only three of the eight trustees of the institution have any relation to agriculture. Two of the three appointed by Governor Burleigh are lawyers. So it is easily seen the situation is not improving, and the subordinate position of agriculture is not likely to change for the better without an influence outside of that which is now controlling its work.

The farmers must come forward in advocacy of their wants, if they would secure their rights from this liberal grant. There is no time to lose. The first fifteen thousand dollars is already payable. No doubt been more ap
